

This project is funded by the European Regional Development Fund.

Differential pressure casting

The aim and completion of the project is a functional test facility on which magnesium components can be manufactured.
